  - The assessment process will be carried out in two stages: (1) the Online Assessment stage (which includes the FBAT and FSAT), and (2) the Semi-Finalist stage (which includes the FSI). Semi-Finalists will be determined based on eligibility, completeness of application, and results from the Online Assessment stage.
  - The competencies on which applicants will be evaluated consist of: Attention to Detail, Flexibility, Integrity/Honesty, Interpersonal Skills, Oral Communication, Reasoning, Self-Management, and Supporting Diversity.
  - Finalists will be selected from Semi-Finalists based on assessment results and the total number of Finalists authorized.

What is the PMF Program?

The Federal Government’s Premier Leadership Development Program

The Presidential Management Fellows (PMF) Program is a prestigious two-year fellowship at a Federal agency.

Bearing the Presidential Seal, the PMF Program is the Federal Government’s flagship leadership development program for advanced degree holders across all academic disciplines.

Over its 45-year history, the mission of the PMF Program has been to recruit and develop a cadre of future government leaders from all segments of society.

Eligible individuals apply to be selected as Finalists. Finalists then have 12 months to secure an appointment as a Fellow, which is a two-year, full-time, paid fellowship at a Federal agency. The PMF Program creates a lasting bond among Fellows and Alumni. It also instills a spirit of public service, which, for Fellows who complete the program successfully, can ultimately encourage and lead to a career in government. The PMF Program is one of three Pathways Programs governed by Executive Order 13562 of December 27, 2010, and through regulation at part 362 Subparts A and D of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations (5 C.F.R. 362).

The Applicant Handbook

The PMF Applicant Handbook is designed to provide a general overview of the annual application process. Prospective applicants should review this information in conjunction with:

- The official announcement posted on USAJOBS when the application opens; and
- Additional resources and information found under the Become a PMF section of the PMF website.
The Opportunity

An Opportunity for All Academic Disciplines

As a pipeline for future leaders, the PMF Program allows Fellows to apply their experience, skills, and knowledge to complex challenges in agencies across the Federal Government in a way that will have a broad impact on our Nation and the American people.

Key Fellowship Benefits

- A full-time job with salary and benefits
- Promotion potential to the GS-13
- Agency employers must provide each Fellow with 80 hours of formal, interactive training and development each year of the fellowship
  - The PMF Program Office provides access to a two-year PMF Leadership Development Program that can provide a significant portion of those training and development hours
- An array of substantial employment benefits (e.g., health, life, dental and vision, and long-term care insurance; Thrift Savings Plan; paid holidays and leave; and flexible work schedules)
- Additional potential benefits, depending on the agency, may include public transportation subsidies, telework, and student loan repayment
- Access to a robust network of current Fellows and PMF Alumni
- Networking events with current Fellows and PMF Alumni

Program Requirements

- Initial appointment at the GS-9, 11, or 12 (or equivalent)
- A minimum of 160 hours (80 hours each year) of formal, interactive training
- At least one 4 to 6-month developmental assignment in a different office or agency
- Optional rotational opportunities
- Assignment of a senior-level mentor
- Individual Development Plan (IDP)
- Potential opportunity to noncompetitively convert to a term or permanent Federal position upon successful completion of the fellowship

Over the past 5 years (2018-2022), we’ve had an annual average of:

- 5,964 Applicants
- 566 Finalists
- 74 Academic Disciplines (among Finalists)
- 170 Academic Institutions (among Finalists)
- 11.5% Veterans (among Finalists)
Eligibility

Current Or Recent Graduates with Advanced Degrees

Current Graduates: Eligible individuals are students currently attending a qualifying college or university and expecting to complete advanced degree requirements by August 31st of the year following the annual application. Completing advanced degree requirements includes the successful completion/defense of any required thesis/dissertation.

Recent Graduates: Eligible individuals are those who have completed an advanced degree from a qualifying college or university during the two years preceding the opening date of the PMF Program’s annual application.

Education

Advanced Degree is defined by a graduate degree (e.g., Master’s, Ph.D., J.D.) earned from a qualifying college or university. Certificate programs that do not confer an advanced degree do not qualify.

A qualifying college or university is an academic institution that must be accredited or must have acquired “pre-accreditation” or “candidate for accreditation” status by an accrediting body recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. Applicants using an advanced degree from a non-U.S. academic institution who are selected as Finalists will be required to utilize a credential evaluation service (see additional information under Become a PMF/Eligibility/Education Outside U.S.). If advanced degree requirements are not completed by the August 31st deadline, Finalists will be ineligible for placement and withdrawn from the program.

There are no GPA (grade point average) requirements or age restrictions associated with the application.

Return Applicants

An individual who previously applied to the program, but was not selected as a Finalist, may reapply if they meet eligibility requirements. Current Finalists who have not obtained a PMF appointment and remain eligible may apply again; however, they will forfeit their status as a current Finalist upon initiating a new application.

Citizenship Considerations

Individuals who are not U.S. citizens may apply to the PMF Program; however, appointment opportunities for PMF positions for non-U.S. citizen Finalists are very limited, if any. A non-U.S. citizen may be eligible for Federal employment if the individual is (1) eligible to work under U.S. immigration laws, and (2) is eligible for AND pursuing U.S. citizenship, OR appointed by a Federal agency that has the authority to hire non-U.S. citizens. In general, a Federal agency may hire a non-U.S. citizen in the PMF Program if the annual Appropriations Act, the Immigration Law, and the agency’s internal policies allow it. Additional information can be found under Become a PMF/Eligibility/Citizenship.
The Application

Opens Annually for Approximately Two Weeks

To become a Finalist, you must participate in a rigorous application process. It takes patience and endurance, but also gives you a chance to demonstrate your leadership ability and potential. Successful applicants are those who, among other things, closely follow the guidelines and requirements for all components of the application.

All applicants are judged on the same, professionally developed criteria. Finalists are chosen based on: (1) ability to meet eligibility requirements, (2) complete application, (3) online assessment results, (4) structured interview results, and (5) the total number of Finalists authorized for each year.

How to Apply

When the application is live, you can find the details for submitting an application in the announcement on USAJOBS by going to the “How to Apply” section. The announcement will lead you to the Apply Site of the PMF Talent Management System (TMS). You do not need a USAJOBS account to access the application; however, establishing one can help you prepare for the annual PMF application and other Federal opportunities as well as give access to a resume builder you may use when applying.

During the application process, after you demonstrate that you are eligible, you must complete two online assessments and submit documents, such as a resume and advanced degree transcript. If you claim veterans’ preference and/or a reasonable accommodation for the assessment process, you will be instructed to submit supporting documentation. The approximate amount of time to complete the application and online assessment is anticipated to be no more than 2-3 hours; however, you do not have to complete the entire application and assessment all at once. You may start and finish each step of the application while the announcement is open; however, once you start a part of the online assessment, you must complete it at that time. It is very important that you closely follow the directions to confirm your eligibility and ensure you submit a complete application in a timely fashion. Applicants are highly encouraged to complete and submit their application early. Please note that you may only submit one application per application cycle.

Once the application closes, applicants will be reviewed for eligibility, complete applications, and assessment results. The assessment process is planned to take place in two stages: the first during the application period and the second during a Semi-Finalist stage after the results of the application and online assessment are reviewed. All applicants will be notified of their status, including whether they have reached the Semi-Finalist stage, following the close of the application. Similarly, those who complete the Semi-Finalist stage will be notified of their status following the completion of that stage. Top scoring applicants will be selected as Finalists. Finalists have 12 months of appointment eligibility to apply for an appointment as a Fellow with a participating Federal agency. Your two-year fellowship begins once you secure a PMF position with a participating Federal agency and are onboard.
Required Documentation

In addition to the online assessments detailed below, applicants are required to submit the following as part of their application:

1. A Resume
2. An Advanced Degree Transcript (and/or alternative)
3. Supporting documentation for any claims for veterans’ preference and/or a reasonable accommodation for completing the assessments, if applicable

NOTE: Letters of recommendation, cover letters, and writing samples are not required to apply and are not accepted.

Applicants are encouraged to assemble and prepare all documentation in advance of the launch of the application to save time and ensure all documentation meets the requirements outlined below.

1. Resume Requirements

The resume can be in any format but is limited to a file size of 5MB. Federal resumes are not required. The resume must be accessible, legible, in English, not password-protected, with no embedded scripts/macros, or photos.

At a minimum, the resume should contain the following:
- Applicant Name
- Contact Information (address, email, and phone number)
- Academic Institution Name
- Qualifying Advanced Degree Program (completed or pursuing)

Should I submit a “Federal” resume?

Often, we are asked about a Federal Resume, which is a specific resume format that many Federal agencies utilize when hiring talent. A resume in the format of a Federal resume is not required to apply to the PMF Program. Additional information about Federal resumes can be found on USAJOBS. Applicants can only submit one resume with their application. Those applicants selected as Finalists will have the ability to upload an updated general resume as well as a tailored resume for each PMF appointment opportunity to which they apply.

2. Transcripts and/or Alternative

Applicants must submit an advanced degree transcript and have the option to submit an undergraduate degree transcript. In addition, other transcripts may be submitted under the “Other” document category. The required transcript must reflect the advanced degree used to establish eligibility for the PMF Program.
Unofficial transcripts are accepted. However, please note any submission of a transcript and/or alternative must include:

1. Applicant name
2. Academic Institution Name
3. Qualifying Advanced Degree Program (completed or pursuing)
4. Advanced Degree completion date (for recent graduates) or anticipated advanced degree completion date (for current graduates)

Applicants are not required to ensure that a Student ID# or Social Security Number appear on these documents. NOTE: Many academic institutions utilize third-party systems and many electronic transcript downloads do not clearly identify all of the above required elements. For an applicant to ensure their eligibility is properly evaluated, an applicant must submit alternative documentation (such as the “alternative letter” explained below) that includes all the required elements.

Do I need to submit my undergraduate transcript?

Submitting an undergraduate transcript is optional and will have no impact on your application or in the selection of Finalists. If selected as a Finalist, registered agency users will be able to search by all degrees and view most application documents. Finalists are able to upload/update select documents.

Alternative Letter

If the advanced degree transcript is unavailable or missing any of the above required elements, the applicant may submit an “alternative letter” (or equivalent) from a school official/department associated to the applicant’s academic institution.

- The letter must be on official school letterhead, providing the information above.
- The letter can come from any official employed by the academic institution (e.g., Career Services Staff, Counselor, Dean, Department Head, Admissions, etc.).
- The letter can complement or supplement the need for an advanced degree transcript; however, applicants are strongly encouraged to also submit their advanced degree transcript AND an alternative letter identifying the missing required elements.
- Applicants can merge the two documents or submit separately during the application process.
- Review the “PMF Program Required Application Documents and Alternative Letter” guidelines posted under Become a PMF/Resources. The guidelines include a sample letter, which also appears on the next page.
- Applicants must submit all documentation by following the instructions on the application.
- Applicants who complete, certify, and submit their application before the end of the application period will be able to revise any of their application documents up until the end of the application period.
- Documents cannot be revised or uploaded after the application period closes; except those applicants claiming veterans’ preference submitting new or revised supporting documentation up to 1-week after the application closes.

3. Supporting Documentation

Veterans’ Preference

During the PMF application process, applicants will be asked if they are claiming veterans’ preference. If claiming veterans’ preference during the application process, applicants should follow the instructions provided for submitting supporting documentation. Veterans’ preference is considered in the selection of Semi-Finalists and Finalists, and during the selections for actual appointment as Fellows.

For more information on veterans’ preference, supporting documentation, some frequently asked questions, and how adjudicated preference is applied for Finalists obtaining PMF appointments, please review Become a PMF/Eligibility/Veterans’ Preference.

Reasonable Accommodations

Applicants with disabilities may request a reasonable accommodation for the assessments when applying to the PMF Program. Reasonable accommodations are provided to applicants with disabilities in accordance with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended. To be considered, requests for a reasonable accommodation for the online assessments must be received before the applicant starts the online assessment and before the application announcement closes. Reasonable accommodations for the structured interview should also be requested during the application period. Keep in mind that the online assessment is un-proctored, and you can use your own assistive technology if applicable. The structured interview will be an approximately 30-minute audio interview (via phone) with a live panel of assessors. Additional information about the assessments is located in the “Online Assessment” and “Structured Interview” sections of this Handbook. Supporting documentation for reasonable accommodation requests must be from a qualified professional that includes information about the disability as well as the accommodation being requested for the online assessment and/or structured interview. Please note that a “Schedule A” letter in and of itself is not sufficient documentation.

Instructions on how to submit a request for a reasonable accommodation are below:

Applicants with disabilities may request a reasonable accommodation for the assessments described in this Handbook when applying to the PMF Program. Reasonable accommodations are provided to applicants with disabilities in accordance with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended. This process is specific to an assessment accommodation and is not related to an accommodation process for obtaining employment as a PMF if selected as a Finalist. If you believe you may need an accommodation for a PMF appointment, if selected as a Finalist, you should request this from the hiring agency after you have received a tentative PMF appointment offer.

As a reminder, to be considered, requests for a reasonable accommodation for the online assessments must be received before the applicant starts the online assessment and before the application announcement closes. Reasonable accommodations for the structured interview should also be requested during the application period. The PMF Program Office will review each request during the application process and contact you directly via email to adjudicate your request. Keep in mind that the online assessment is un-proctored, meaning you do not need to take it at a certain location. You can complete all parts of the online assessment using your personal computer, taking advantage of your own assistive technology, if applicable. There are no videos. Both the application and assessment process are 508 conformant (i.e., secure and provide substantially equivalent accessibility and use to people with disabilities).

During the application period, applicants will have the opportunity to indicate whether they are requesting a reasonable accommodation for the online assessment, the structured interview, or both. The section below addresses the procedures for requesting reasonable accommodations for the online assessment and the structured interview. Similar information about reasonable accommodations can be found within the USAJOBS announcement, during the application process, and under Become a PMF/Assessment Process.

How to Request Reasonable Accommodations for the Online Assessment and Structured Interview

After reviewing the information in this Handbook, if you would like to request a reasonable accommodation for the online assessment, structured interview, or both, please follow the steps below:

Step 1: Once you have created your applicant user account, logged into the application system, and started completing the required steps under the “User Dashboard,” you will see a question about reasonable accommodations under the “Eligibility Information” section. Where prompted, indicate that you wish to request an accommodation for the online assessment, the structured interview, or both, and describe the specific assessment accommodation(s) that you are requesting.

- If you indicate a need for a reasonable accommodation for the online assessment, the application system will not allow you to access the actual online assessment until we adjudicate your request. You may continue with other parts of your application (e.g., submitting documents and reviewing previously completed parts).

- If you wish to void your request before we provide a decision, go back to the “Eligibility Information” section and indicate that you do not need a reasonable accommodation and submit your updated response. The application system will then allow you to take the online assessment without an accommodation.

- You will not be allowed to request an accommodation for the online assessment once you have begun the online assessment.

- If you indicate a need for a reasonable accommodation for the structured interview and not the online assessment, you should submit your structured interview-related request prior to submitting your application by the closing date of the application period. Notifications about structured interview accommodation requests will be provided prior to the structured interview to those applicants selected as Semi-Finalists who indicated a need for a reasonable accommodation.

Step 2: Submit any supporting documentation for the accommodation that you are requesting under the “Documents” section from the “User Dashboard” screen in the application system. This section provides separate “Document Types” for applicants to submit documents. You may submit up to three supporting documents for all requests (limited to a 5MB file size for each) under the “Document Type” designated for reasonable accommodation requests. If you need to upload additional documents, you may upload them under the “Document Type” called “Other”.

Supporting documentation must be from a qualified professional (e.g., medical doctor, rehabilitation counselor, or vocational counselor) and include the following information:

1. What is the disability and how does it affect your ability to complete the assessments?
2. What accommodation is requested to assist with the assessments?
3. How will the accommodation help you take the assessments?

This information must be provided whether you are requesting a reasonable accommodation for the online assessment, the structured interview, or both. If you request reasonable accommodations for both the online assessment and the structured interview, your supporting documentation for each request should be sufficient to provide information responsive to the three questions above. Failure to provide supporting documentation may result in a delay or the inability to grant your request. Please note that a “Schedule A” letter in and of itself is not sufficient documentation.

Step 3: Submit your reasonable accommodation request and the supporting documentation for the online assessment before the application announcement closes (or as directed by the PMF Program Office). Reasonable accommodations for the structured interview should also be requested during the application period. Supporting documentation for requesting a reasonable accommodation is not shared with agencies and only applicable for the PMF assessment process.

Step 4: We determine assessment accommodations on a case-by-case basis based on claimed disability and documentation provided. During the adjudication process for your request, either (1) we will contact you directly via email or (2) you will receive automated emails, to communicate our decision, inform you of next steps, or request additional information or documentation. Please ensure your email account settings will allow an email from a "gov" email address (e.g., pmfapplication@opm.gov, no-reply@apply.pmf.gov, or no-reply@portal.pmf.gov). If not, the email may appear in a "Spam" or "Junk" folder.

If we contact you requesting clarification or additional supporting documentation and there is no response within approximately 24 hours, we will adjudicate your request as is and notify you of the outcome. Therefore, it is important to be prepared and to promptly submit your supporting documentation.

For reasonable accommodation requests related to the online assessment:

- In general, if the application announcement has not closed when notification of the accommodation decision is given, you must complete the online assessment before the application announcement closes. This general rule is subject to two exceptions:
  - If the applicant is approved for an accommodation, they will have either 48 hours from the date and time of the approval email or up until the application’s closing date and time, whichever is longer, to complete the online assessment and submit their application.
  - If the application announcement will close in less than 48 hours from the time
If the application has closed when notification of the accommodation decision is given, you must complete the online assessment within 48 hours of the date and time of the decision email.

- We will adjudicate your request as soon as possible. We will be monitoring any requests throughout the application period.

- If the request is approved, you will be provided additional instructions within the approval email. The online assessment will automatically adjust accordingly. However, if you receive approval while logged into the application system, you may need to refresh the page or log out and log back in for any adjustments to take effect.

- If the supporting documentation is insufficient, we will send you a pending email that will include additional instructions.

- If the request is not approved, follow the instructions in the denial email, which also contains instructions on how to submit new or complete supporting documentation for reconsideration.

For reasonable accommodation requests related to the structured interview:

- Reasonable accommodation requests for the structured interview will be acted upon only for those applicants selected as Semi-Finalists.

- Semi-Finalists will be contacted following the closure of the application period and the determination of Semi-Finalist status. The email contact will provide instructions related to scheduling and participating in the structured interview based on the outcome of the adjudication process.

The Assessment Process

Introduction

The following will help you prepare for the rigorous assessment process used by the U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM) as part of our procedures for selecting Finalists. This section of the Handbook covers the assessment process and will familiarize you with its key features (including sample questions) so that you know what to expect and are prepared to do your best. In addition, the instructions here together with those provided during the application are the official PMF Program Office instructions regarding the assessment process; you should not assume any third-party guidance or what you may have been told by former applicants, Finalists, Fellows, etc., is up-to-date or official PMF Program guidance.

For the 2023 PMF application cycle, the assessment process has changed. Consistent with the PMF Program mission, the assessment process is designed to attract a talented group of applicants drawn from all segments of society.
You are highly encouraged to thoroughly review this section and refer to it as you complete the assessment process. This information is subject to change and any updates to this Handbook will be posted to the Become a PMF/Resources section on the PMF website; please check the Revision History on Page 2.

NOTE FOR CURRENT FINALISTS: If you choose to reapply, or attempt to reapply, to the next annual PMF application, you will forfeit your standing as a current Finalist (5 C.F.R. 362.403).

Assessment Overview

The assessment process will consist of three distinct parts: (1) The Fellows Behavioral Assessment Tool (FBAT), (2) The Fellows Situational Assessment Tool (FSAT), and (3) The Fellows Structured Interview (FSI). The assessment process will be carried out in two stages: (1) the Online Assessment stage (which includes the FBAT and FSAT), and (2) the Semi-Finalist stage (which includes the FSI). Semi-Finalists will be determined based on eligibility, completeness of application, and results from the Online Assessment stage.

The assessment process is designed to measure the following competencies that are critical to success in the PMF role:

- Attention to Detail: Is thorough when performing work and conscientious about attending to detail.
- Flexibility: Is open to change and new information; adapts behavior or work methods in response to new information, changing conditions, or unexpected obstacles; effectively deals with ambiguity.
- Integrity/Honesty: Contributes to maintaining the integrity of the organization; displays high standards of ethical conduct and understands the impact of violating these standards on an organization, self, and others; is trustworthy.
- Interpersonal Skills: Shows understanding, friendliness, courtesy, tact, empathy, concern, and politeness to others; develops and maintains effective relationships with others; may include effectively dealing with individuals who are difficult, hostile, or distressed; relates well to people from varied backgrounds and different situations; is sensitive to cultural diversity, race, gender, disabilities, and other individual differences.
- Oral communication: Expresses information (for example, ideas or facts) to individuals or groups effectively, taking into account the audience and nature of the information (for example, technical, sensitive, controversial); makes clear and convincing oral presentations; listens to others, attends to nonverbal cues, and responds appropriately.
- Reasoning: Identifies rules, principles, or relationships that explain facts, data, or other information; analyzes information and makes correct inferences or draws accurate conclusions.
- Self-Management: Sets well-defined and realistic personal goals; displays a high level of initiative, effort, and commitment towards completing assignments in a timely manner; works with minimal supervision; is motivated to achieve; demonstrates responsible behavior.
- Supporting Diversity: Maintains an open mind regarding different ideas, opinions, values, and beliefs; recognizes own worldview and understands its influence on interactions with others; incorporates a variety of viewpoints to help accomplish work goals; contributes to an inclusive work environment with equal treatment of individuals across all demographics (e.g., race, gender), and social (e.g., culture) groups.
Online Assessment

The online assessment is administered in an un-proctored environment and includes two parts: (1) the Fellows Behavioral Assessment Tool (FBAT) and (2) the Fellows Situational Assessment Tool (FSAT). The FBAT will ask applicants about behaviors related to competencies critical for PMF roles. The FSAT will ask applicants to evaluate various courses of action in response to PMF work-related situations.

Each part of the online assessment is timed. Across both online assessment parts, the approximate amount of time to complete is anticipated to be no more than 2.5 hours (i.e., absent an accommodation). Each part will include a timer presented on screen, and this timer can be hidden using an on-screen toggle. Sample questions for each part are provided below. No specific training or experience is required to answer the questions in the online assessment.

NOTE: An applicant may complete each of the online assessment parts at different times or all at once, as long as the applicant completes the entire online assessment and submits their application by the closing of the announcement (unless otherwise instructed). For example, an applicant can start and complete Part 1 (FBAT) and then start and complete Part 2 (FSAT) at a later time. However, once an applicant starts a part, they must complete that part. Applicants must complete each part in the order shown on the online application platform.

Once you begin either of the parts, you must complete that part unless there is an emergency (i.e., natural disaster, fire, explosion, major structural failure), a loss of electrical power, or a loss of internet connectivity. In the event of an emergency, you will be allowed to resume your assessment with the time remaining in that part, and prior to the application announcement closing. Upon resuming, you will be presented with an Interruption Alert where you will be asked to enter an explanation. Upon submission, you will be able to resume where you left off if time remains. If the emergency requires you to leave your connection, we suggest you log out or close the browser to ensure the timer stops. Applicants will be presented a pop-up warning when 5-minutes remain for each timed part. The online application tracks all applicant activity, timers, interruption alerts, and error messages. Applicants are reminded to thoroughly read the instructions when completing the online assessment.

Fellows Behavioral Assessment Tool (FBAT) Sample Questions

The Fellows Behavioral Assessment Tool (FBAT) is Part 1 of the online assessment. The FBAT will present applicants with a series of behavioral statements related to competencies important for performance as a PMF. You will be asked to indicate your agreement with each statement using a rating scale.

When responding, you should consider how you tend to approach your work, whether performing work duties, studying, or completing academic assignments. Accordingly, the terms “peer,” “supervisor,” and “group” refer to people you have interacted with across these settings. A peer could be a classmate or colleague, whereas a supervisor may be a work manager or academic advisor.

Additionally, some items may refer to group identity. For the purposes of this assessment, group identity includes race, ethnicity, age, gender, social class, sexual orientation, disability status, and other underserved communities.

You will be allowed 50 minutes to complete the 90 questions on the FBAT. A timer will be available to you within the assessment, and a time warning will automatically be provided when 5 minutes remain in the allowed time. It will be to your advantage to answer every question during the time allowed, and respond to each item honestly and truthfully. No specific training or experience is required to respond to these questions.

Fellows Situational Assessment Tool (FSAT) Sample Questions

The Fellows Situational Assessment Tool (FSAT) is Part 2 of the online assessment. The FSAT will present applicants with scenarios related to those encountered by PMFs. Each scenario is accompanied by a series of response options, which are potential actions that could be taken in response to the scenario. You will be asked to evaluate the effectiveness of each response option using a rating scale. The scenarios and response options are related to competencies used by PMFs during their work.

When responding, you will be asked to carefully read each scenario and evaluate each response option independent of the other response options. Your effectiveness rating for one response option should not influence your rating for a separate response option. For example, some options may be equally effective or ineffective. There is no pattern of effectiveness present in the response options. No specific training or experience is required to respond to these questions.

You will be allowed 90 minutes to complete the 84 questions (associated with 12 scenarios) on the FSAT. A timer will be available to you within the assessment, and a time warning will automatically be provided when 5 minutes remain in the allowed time. It will be to your advantage to answer every question during the time allowed.

Following is a sample FSAT scenario and response options:

Sample FSAT Scenario. Upon joining a new work team as a PMF, you are asked to help coordinate the creation of a new office within your organization. This task is a large undertaking and, in part, requires you to contact a lengthy list of external organizations and individual subject matter experts to gather input. You have coworkers to draw upon for help but have not been assigned any specific project staff. You have been given very little guidance for how to execute this project, and you are worried that you will not be able to meet the project demands.
Please rate the effectiveness of each response option below for this scenario.

Certification and Acknowledgement

During the online assessment, applicants will be prompted to certify that they completed each part of the assessment independently and without any assistance. DO NOT close your browser or exit out of the online assessment until you have certified and submitted your responses. If you do not certify your responses, even if time expired, your application will be deemed incomplete, and you will not be considered during this year’s application cycle.
Structured Interview

A structured interview is an assessment method designed to measure job-related competencies of candidates by systematically inquiring about their behavior in past experiences and/or their proposed behavior in hypothetical situations.

Applicants who are invited to the Semi-Finalist stage will receive an invitation to schedule a structured interview. Semi-Finalists will complete an approximately 30-minute audio interview via phone, in English with a live panel of assessors. During the interview, Semi-Finalists will be asked to respond to a series of questions related to critical competencies for the PMF role. No specific training or experience is required to respond to these questions.

Interview logistics. Applicants who are invited to the Semi-Finalist stage will be notified via email and given an opportunity to select a structured interview time using an online procedure. The timeframe to select an interview time will be limited, so applicants should closely monitor their email and status and only accept an interview time that they are able to make. The opportunity to reschedule an interview time will be only in cases of emergency and extremely limited based on availability. The ability to reschedule an interview time is NOT guaranteed. If a Semi-Finalist does not select a structured interview time during the specified timeframe, that individual will be disqualified from further consideration.

At the time of the Semi-Finalist’s scheduled interview, either they will be asked to call in to a designated phone line, or they will receive a call from their interview panel. Personal identification information about the Semi-Finalist and the assessors will be limited so as to both confirm identity and maximize fairness considerations. The panel will provide instructions to the Semi-Finalist regarding how the interview will be conducted. After addressing any Semi-Finalist questions about the interview procedure, the panel will move into the timed oral question-and-answer portion of the interview. Questions will be read aloud by the assessors, and Semi-Finalists will be expected to respond using oral communication within the allotted timeframe. Individuals requiring a reasonable accommodation should follow the procedures outlined in this Handbook to submit an accommodation request for the interview.

Following is a sample structured interview question:

Sample question. This question is about the Interpersonal Skills competency, which is defined as: Shows understanding, friendliness, courtesy, tact, empathy, concern, and politeness to others; develops and maintains effective relationships with others; may include effectively dealing with individuals who are difficult, hostile, or distressed; relates well to people from varied backgrounds and different situations; is sensitive to cultural diversity, race, gender, disabilities, and other individual differences.

The sample question is: Describe a situation in which you dealt with individuals who were difficult, hostile, or distressed. Who was involved? What specific actions did you take? What was the outcome

Notification of the Assessment Results

Please note that the PMF Program Office does not provide assessment scores and there is no appeal process. Applicants selected as Finalists are not guaranteed a PMF position.

Applicants will be informed whether they are selected as Semi-Finalists and Finalists via email and can monitor their application status under their applicant user account on the Apply Site of the PMF TMS. Please refer to the timeline posted for any updates on the PMF website.

Contact Information

All general inquiries regarding the application and assessment process must be sent via email to pmfapplication@opm.gov; this serves to document your request. The mailbox will be monitored during the application period. Contact the application Help Desk for any technical difficulties during the application and assessment process by clicking on the Help link on the top menu bar during the application process. To prevent confusion or duplicate inquiries, please do NOT submit a Help Desk ticket and an email to the PMF Application mailbox on the same issue(s). Submitting a Help Desk ticket is preferred in order to document and track. The PMF Program Office monitors both systems and you will receive a timely response.

We are delighted that you are interested in the Presidential Management Fellows (PMF) Program. The opportunities available to PMFs are as extraordinary as are the challenges facing our Nation today. The assessment process you are about to go through is rigorous, demanding, and highly competitive, helping us find top talent with strong leadership potential for this prestigious program.

Applicants are reminded to check for updates to this Handbook and PMF website throughout the application and assessment process.

Avoid Common Mistakes

1. Transcript Issues: Many applicants submit transcripts that are missing required elements such as their name, name of the advanced degree issuing academic institution, advanced degree program and type, and most importantly, the completion date or anticipated completion date of their advanced degree. Make sure your advanced degree transcript includes all required elements. Refer to the Handbook’s section on “Required Documentation”.

2. Insufficient Documentation: Some applicants are missing alternative documents associated to a transcript when a required element is missing (e.g., advanced degree completion date), documents related to veterans’ preference, or documents related to a request for a reasonable accommodation for the assessments. We recommend that you prepare your documents before the application opens.

3. Waiting Until the Last Minute: Allow yourself plenty of time to complete the application and assessment process. Many applicants do not start the application process until the night before or even hours before it closes. The entire application and online assessment can take 2-3 hours to complete. You are highly encouraged to complete your application, including the online assessment, as early as possible. The application opens and closes at Noon (Eastern Time) on the dates advertised.
Frequently Asked Questions

We recommend all applicants review the comprehensive list of Frequently Asked Questions under the Become a PMF/FAQs section of the PMF website. Below are some of the most common questions asked by applicants:

Where are Fellows hired?

The PMF Program Office partners with numerous Federal agencies each year. To see which agencies participate and have Agency PMF Coordinators, go to the list of Agency PMF Coordinators.

In addition, a common myth of the PMF Program is that opportunities are available only in the Washington, DC metro area, when in fact we work with several Federal agencies to place PMFs across the country.

Does my academic discipline influence my application? Is having a Ph.D. more competitive?

The PMF Program is open to otherwise eligible individuals with ALL types of advanced degrees and disciplines. PMFs have backgrounds in a wide variety of academic disciplines, from public administration to toxicology, to forestry, to human rights, to cybersecurity (and everything in between).

Applications from Master’s students and Ph.D. students are reviewed and receive the same treatment. There is no advantage to any specific degree type when applying. Once you become a Finalist, your academic experience may be factored into your salary negotiations and meeting the qualifications of positions for which you are being considered.

Does my academic institution influence my application?

No. The specific school you go to does not get factored into the selection of Finalists whatsoever. Applicants from any and all accredited institutions are eligible to apply.

Are current Federal employees eligible to apply?

Yes, current Federal employees who meet the eligibility requirements for the PMF Program may apply; however, their current Federal employment is not factored into the selection of Finalists.

Will having an active security clearance help my application?

No, this information is not factored into the selection of Finalists. If you are selected as a Finalist, having an existing or recent security clearance may expedite the hiring process, but each agency has unique requirements.

What type of previous work experience are you looking for?

Applicants are not required to have previous work experience to be eligible to apply. If you are selected as a Finalist, your academic and professional experience will be important factors of considerations for agencies looking to hire.

Which advanced degree should I apply with?

If you have multiple advanced degrees, please apply with the one that meets the eligibility criteria. If two or more do, please select one as the primary.

Applicants may identify other degrees (e.g., double majors, undergraduate, certificates, etc.). No preference is given to degree types during the application phase.
Next Steps

Selection

Shortly after the application closes, the PMF Program Office reviews applications for eligibility, completeness, academic institution accreditation, claims for veterans’ preference, and assessment results; this is referred to as the adjudication process. Based on the adjudication process and assessment score results, the PMF Program Office will identify Semi-Finalists. Semi-Finalists will be invited to participate in a structured interview process.

Finalists are chosen based on: (1) ability to meet eligibility requirements, (2) complete application, (3) online assessment results, (4) structured interview results, and (5) the total number of Finalists authorized for each year. Finalists will be announced after the structured interviews conclude. Please refer to the timeline posted under Become a PMF/2023 Application.

Applicants can monitor their results from their applicant user account on the Apply Site of the PMF TMS. All applicants will be sent an email notifying them whether they have been selected as a Semi-Finalist. We recommend that you add the following email addresses to your “safe” or “allowed email list” and email address book: pmf@opm.gov, pmfapplication@opm.gov, no-reply@portal.pmf.gov, and no-reply@apply.pmf.gov.

Finalists

If you are selected as a Finalist and have provided consent to have your name, college/university, and advanced degree listed publicly, that information will be included in the public list of Finalists (as well as any subsequent appointment status). Providing consent to share this information publicly is optional and does not affect whether an applicant is selected as a Finalist. Applicants and Semi-Finalists are NOT publicly listed.

From the date of selection, Finalists have 12 months to secure a PMF appointment. Finalists can search for appointment opportunities from their user account under the Apply Site where they will find an updated User Dashboard reflecting their status as a Finalist. Finalists are not guaranteed a PMF appointment and positions/grade levels are dependent on agency needs.

If you are not selected as a Semi-Finalist or Finalist, you may be eligible to reapply next year. Please note there is no appeal process, and we are not able to provide assessment scores. You may be interested in other Federal opportunities and can find them by searching USAJOBS.
Technical Considerations

Creating An Account

Applicants are able to create an applicant user account once the annual PMF application opens on the Apply Site of the PMF TMS. It is recommended that applicants create a user account using a personal email address, rather than an .edu email address. This login information will be used if you are selected as a Semi-Finalist or Finalist. Many .edu email accounts expire after graduation, and many school servers block our emails. All communications are conducted via email and/or posted to the PMF website. Check your spam folder for automated emails generated from our system. Applicants can monitor their application status after submission via their user account on the Apply Site of the PMF TMS.

Uploading Supporting Documents

When uploading documents as part of your application, please ensure your document is accessible (e.g., not password protected, does not require digital certificates), legible, in English, and contains no scripts/macros or photos. File size limit is 5MB per file.

Submitted documents are saved to a secure server. Please do not redact data. Uploading Adobe (.pdf) files is preferred.

System and Browser Requirements

The browser requirements and settings for the systems used during the application and online assessment process appear below. To prevent inconsistencies and any technical problems, applicants should refrain from using other unsupported browsers. It is recommended that you clear your cache by deleting your browser history under your Tools/Internet Options menu before creating a user account and applying to the program.

In order for the application and online assessment to display and function properly on your computer, we recommend the following:

- Use a broadband internet connection. Dial-up connections affect the performance of the system and are not recommended.

- Use one of the following recommended browsers: Google Chrome (version 104 or higher), Safari (version 15.6 or higher), Microsoft Edge (version 104 or higher), or Mozilla Firefox (version 104 or higher).

- Enable JavaScript and Cookies

- Disable Pop-up blockers.

Please check your computer in meeting these system and browser requirements prior to starting your PMF application. Additional information can be found under the Become a PMF/Application Process section on the PMF website.
Equal Opportunity Employment

During the application, applicants are asked to voluntarily answer source tracking and demographic information. These optional questions ask applicants about: (1) how they heard about the PMF Program, (2) gender, (3) ethnicity, (4) race, and (5) disability or serious health condition. Responses to these questions have no impact on your application, are optional, and are maintained in accordance with the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a. Such responses help us in our marketing and outreach efforts, and the aggregate data helps us determine if our equal opportunity efforts are reaching all segments of the population.

The United States Government does not discriminate in employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, political affiliation, sexual orientation, gender identity, marital status, disability and genetic information, age, membership in an employee or political organization, or other non-merit factor.

Need Help?

For technical support during the application process, please select the Help link in the upper right-hand corner (on the blue menu bar) on the Apply Site; you will be redirected to the Application Help webpage. There are separate methods for contacting us regarding general information and technical support during the application and assessment process.

If you need technical assistance during the application and online assessment, we recommend you follow the help options offered and submit a Help Desk ticket; this documents your issue and enables us to better assist you. If you submit a Help Desk ticket, please do not send separate emails on the same topic(s) as both the ticket system and mailboxes are monitored separately and may cause confusion or delays.
